Tied in Clarksville.

Alexander, popular young people of the Caledonia neighborhood, eloped to Clarksville Monday night and were married the next morn-

Mr. Clarence Gray and reached Clarksville at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, after driving all night.
The wedding took place in the Arlington hotel.

The groom is a son of Mr. E. W.
Tuggle and is a very prosperous young farmer.

His bride is a daughter of Mr.
Joseph Alexander and is a very pretty and popular young lady.

Mrs. T. L. Gant has returned from a visit to friends in Elktion.

STRIKE SITUATION.

Union Movement Seems To Be Gaining In Strength.

Operators Will Not Admit That There Is Danger of a Successful Tie-up.

Madisonville, Ky., Dec. 6.—The miners' officials are making big claims. President Woods posted a bulletin in which he claims that the miners of Oak Hill and Morton's Gap have joined the union and will cease work today. The operators say very few if any of the men at the above places belong to the union. Oak Hill worked yesterday with a decreased force, but the manager said that a full force would be at work today. So it remains to be seen which is right, miners or operators. The operators of the Evansville and Providence mines are finding it no easy task to fill the places of the strikers. Ten men arrived from Evansville yesterday to work at the Providence mines. They were met at the depot by a committee of miners and persuaded to return home.

The officials of the Mine Workers are receiving provisions in carload lots to feed the striking miners, and are asserting the confidence that they will win the strike. R. H.
McIntosh, a union miner, was fined $5 at Madisonville for assaulting an employee at Carbondale mines.
Judge Hall, of Webster county, has issued an anti-intimidation proclamation, but the Mayor of Providence is openly expressing sympathy with the strike. Manager Booth, of the Carbondale mines, denies that any of his men have gone out on a strike.

DIED IN ILLINOIS.

Daughter of the Late Dr. Worrell Passes Away.

Mrs. Catherine Worrell, widow of the late Dr. T. F. Worrell, formerly of this county, died at her home in Bloomington, Ill., last week. She was formerly Miss Catherine Ewing, daughter of Adlai Ewing, who lived in South Christian, near where Herndon is now located, and was about seventy-five years old. She moved with her husband to Bloomington fifty years ago, where she had since resided. Mrs. Worrell was the last of a family of two brothers and three sisters. Her husband was a leading physician of Bloomington and died about twelve years ago.

CHURCH DESTROYED.

Building Being Heated When Cel-
ling Caught On Fire.

Zion Hope colored Baptist church situated about half way between Herndon and Pee Dee burned Sunday morning. A fire had been built in the church for the purpose of heating the building before the hour for preaching arrived. The ceiling caught on fire, the whole building being enveloped in flames in a very short while. The church was a frame structure and was soon reduced to ashes. The loss is about $200. There was no insurance.

The membership is quite large and it is the intention to rebuild as soon as possible. Subscription papers are already being circulated and contributions have been quite liberal. If sufficient money can be raised within the next week, the work of rebuilding will commence at once.

The House bill reducing the war revenue tax was reported Wednesday and a final vote is expected before Christmas. The special tax is almost entirely removed. There is a reduction of twenty-five cents a barrel on beer, and also a reduction on tobacco. The total reduction is estimated to be about $40,000,000.
This is one bill we are all in favor of, regardless of politics.

50 men will go. Lieut. Col. J. B. Bassett, regimental officers, will also go with the company. The soldiers expect to return home Wednesday.

RAILROAD SPEEDS.

France Holds First Place for Long Fast Runs.

In a recent letter to the London Times, a correspondent, who has evidently gone into the subject with great care, has compiled several tables, showing the fastest trains, the distances they run, and their speeds, on the leading railroads of the world. The tables will, observes the Scientific American, be in some respects particularly gratifying to American readers, although it must be confessed that in respect to the total number of fast long-distance trains, France, which of late years has made wonderful strides in the development of her railroads, easily holds the premier position. Under the table of the fastest booked speeds, from start to stop, this country leads the list with four notable trains which are run on the Philadelphia & Reading and Pennsylvania railroads, from Camden to Atlantic City. The two Philadelphia & Reading trains cover the distance of 53 miles at the rate of 60.1 miles an hour, while the two Pennsylvania railroad trains run between the same points a distance of 59 miles at the rate of 64.3 miles an hour. Following these is a French train which runs the distance from Marseilles to Bordeaux, 673 miles, at the rate of 61.6 miles per hour, and next to this are four trains on the Camden-Atlantic City line, with speeds of 61 and 60.5 miles an hour. Then follows a train on the Paris Amiens route, which covers 813 miles at a speed of 60.5 miles an hour. The next two fast runs are short ones of 15 miles from Dorchester to Wareham in England, which are booked to be made at a speed of 60.1 miles an hour. It is a significant fact that out of 43 express trains, with a speed of over 55 miles an hour, these Dorchester-Wareham trains and three trains on the Caledonian railroad, two of which cover 324 miles at 59.1 miles an hour and 56.5 miles an hour, and the third 493 miles at 55.6 miles an hour, are the only ones that represent the English railroads; although it is but a few years ago that English roads were supreme in the matter of speed among the railroads of the world. Out of a total of 57 trains given in this table, there are only three other English trains which have a speed of 55 miles an hour or over. Summing up, we find that America leads the list in point of speed, with 23 trains while France has 26 trains and England eight to the table referred to.

The credit for running the fastest long distance train in the world is due to the Orleans & Midland railroad, whose train from Paris to Bayonne, a distance of 486 miles, is run at a speed, including six stops, of 51.1 miles an hour. This is better than the London & Southampton line, which runs the same distance in 11 hours and 15 minutes, or 50.5 miles an hour. The best work of the Paris & Orléans line is their train from Paris to Bordeaux, a distance of 486 miles, which is covered at an average speed, including three stops, of 50.7 miles per hour. We have said that by virtue of the high average speed and great number of its long-distance express trains, France holds the premier position today, a statement which is borne out by the fact that the three fastest trains which are booked to run at average speeds, including stops, of from 51.1 to 57.7 miles per hour, over distances of from 123 to 486 miles. The fastest of these, which runs from Bayonne to Bordeaux, covers a distance of 123 miles at 57.7 miles per hour, with two stops, while the most creditable runs from Paris to Bayonne, of 486 miles, at 51.1 miles an hour, above referred to.

Commenting upon this very interesting and impartial communication, the Engineer and Engineering have taken very different and very characteristic points of view. Engineering accepts the situation with the remark that it is "mortifying to observe what an extremely poor show is made by Great Britain in a field in which she was long preeminent," and adds that "if we take into account the special conditions in each case, the American performances are made to appear even more extraordinary than is at first apparent." The Engineer, on the other hand, states that "the occasion has been seized as a favorable opportunity for drawing invidious comparisons between the railroads of the United States and of this country." The latter contemporary takes occasion to felicitate itself on the fact that "it has done something to prevent the perpetuation of the preposterous statements as to enormous speeds attained on American railways." In view of the fact that the speeds as given are absolutely correct, there is something highly diverting to American readers of the Engineer in the persistency with which it has endeavored to escape from facts which have long been recognized by the world at large.

TOO POLITE BY HALF.

Effusiveness of the People of Dresden Well Illustrated.

The people of Dresden are very polite, so over-polite that they not infrequently bring down ridicule upon themselves. It used to be told in that city that a stranger was one day crossing the great bridge that spans the Elbe, and asked a native to direct him to a certain church which he wished to find.

"Really, my dear sir," said the Dresden, bowing low, "I grieve greatly to say it, but I cannot tell you."

The stranger passed on, a little surprised at this valuable answer to a simple question. He had proceeded but a short distance when he heard hurried footsteps behind him, and, turning round, saw the same man running to catch up with him. In a moment his pursuer was by his side, his breath nearly gone, but enough left to say, hurriedly:

"I beg your pardon, my dear sir, you asked me how you could find the church, and it pained me to say that I did not know. Just now I met my brother, but I grieve to say he did not know either."—London Tit-Bits.

L. & N. EXTENDING SERVICE.

New Road Will Be Thrown Open January 1.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad is extending its service greatly in Alabama, and by the first of next year it expects to have in operation several miles of new track in that State, which will in all probability prove a fine investment, as it opens up new territory and consequently new wealth, says the Nashville American. The new road from Andalusia to Geneva, forty-five miles in length, will be thrown open to the public about Jan. 1. While it is only a branch road, yet when complete it will cost about $300,000 and will open up a new timber and cotton country. In addition to this stretch of track, the Louisville & Nashville is building innumerable branches from Birmingham to the coal and iron basins of Alabama, and is also connecting with many small towns in the vicinity of Birmingham. These branches, all told, will be about 125 miles in length, and will greatly benefit Birmingham, as well as the road.

DR. JOSEPH PARKER.

England's Greatest Preacher Declares That He Is About to Retire from the Ministry.

Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker, the famous preacher of London, is about to retire from the ministry. He is the pastor of the City temple, the leading Congregational church of Great Britain, and has been ever a prime favorite with Americans abroad. Dr. Parker established the City temple in 1869, and during the years that have passed since then he has developed an important work among the poor of the great city. Few pulpits are more eloquent, more outspoken or more fearless than the celebrated British divine. Preaching has been a passion with him. "What is your hobby, doctor?" a lady once asked him. "Preaching, madam." "But apart from preaching?" "There is nothing apart from preaching. It touches all life," he replied. Dr. Parker's father was a stonecutter, herculean in physique and strength and with the tread of a Roman soldier. All this the son inherited. He does not know the meaning of the word "ill." Dr. Parker in most of his opinions is most liberal. "The stage," he says, "cannot be put down. It responds to an instinct which is ineradicable." And he is dramatic in his pulpit. The retiring minister will be 71 years old next April. His degree of doctor of divinity was conferred by the University of Chicago.

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called Tasteless Chill Tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chill tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chill Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of the United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.

Is a genuine specific for diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. No other medicine has had so remarkable a success in curing diseases affecting the heart, liver and lungs, whenever these diseases, as is commonly the case, were caused by "weak stomach" and "impure blood." Food imperfectly digested cannot be perfectly assimilated. "Golden Medical Discovery" restores the organs of digestion to perfect working order. Food must be re-assimilated in a food body. The "Discovery" purifies the blood and increases the activity of the blood-making glands, so increasing the quantity and quality of the blood supply. It has been tried by over half-a-million people. It has cured ninety-eight out of every hundred who have tried it.

WHY NOT LET IT CURE YOU?

The Irl R. Hicks 1901 Almanac.

Whatever may be said of the scientific causes upon which the Rev. Irl R. Hicks bases his yearly forecasts of storm and weather, it is a remarkable fact that his specific warnings of every great storm, flood, cold wave and drought have been plainly printed in his now famous Almanac for many years. The latest startling proof of this fact was the destruction of Galveston, Texas, on the very day named by Prof. Hicks in his 1900 Almanac, as one of days for steady along the Gulf coast. The 1901 Almanac, by far the finest, most complete and beautiful yet published, is now ready. This remarkable book of near two hundred pages, splendidly illustrated with charts and half-tone engravings, goes as a premium to every subscriber who pays one dollar for Prof. Hicks' journal. Consumption

Do not think for a single moment that consumption will ever strike you a sudden blow. It does not come that way. It creeps its way along. First you think it is a little cold, nothing but a little hacking cough; then a little loss in weight; then a harder cough; then a fever and the night sweats. Better stop the disease while it is yet creeping. Better cure your cough today. You can do it with

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

The pressure on the chest is lifted, that feeling of suffocation is removed, and you are cured. You can stop that little cold with a 25c bottle; harder coughs will need a 50c. size; if it's on the lungs the one dollar size will be most economical.

"I confidently recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to all my patients. I am using it now in my own family. Forty years ago I feel sure it saved my life."

COUNTY COURT ORDERS.

Now road To Be Opened.—Several Overseers Appointed.

The following overseers of the road were appointed: James Turner for the Cerulean Springs and Madisonville road from the Trigg county line to the Hopkinsville and Princeton road; Jas. McCord for the South Lick road from Rogers, to the Sand Lick bridge; W. T. Fuller for Antioch road from Antioch to Ducker's Mill bridge; J. W. Rogers for Johnson's Mill road from Hopkinsville and Greenville road to J. R. Rogers.

J. A. Owen was appointed deputy assessor for the First district.

R. P. Claxton was appointed administrator for his deceased son, Roy Claxton, with John A. Gunn as surety.

HEROIC RESCUE.

Details Just Learned of Allen Owen's Bravery.

The big wet weather pond at the Wallace place on the Cox's Mill road is gradually going down and the carcass of a mule drowned in the pond has been brought to view. The details of this incident were not published at the time. Beverly Sharp, an old negro man, drove his team of two mules into water over their heads and wagon, team and driver were foundering in the deep water when Mr. Allen Owen, a young farmer, son of Mr. M. V. Owen, appeared upon the scene. He quickly pulled off his coat and shoes and heroically plunged into the water to rescue the old man and his mules if possible. He swam to them and succeeded in cutting one mule loose from the wagon and it swam to the shore. The other animal became tangled in the gearing and fell and was drowned. He then swam ashore with the old man in tow and rescued him. Mr. Owen's heroic and unhesitatingly saved the man's life, as both mules and the driver were in a drowning condition when he went to their assistance.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel damped with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with a back or pains in the side or chest, give it a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. One application gives relief. For sale by all druggists.

ABOUT THE WEED.

Warehousemen Preparing For Big Business—Receipts Yet Small.

The receipts of tobacco on the local market are still light, but are on the increase. Much of the loose weed is being delivered to the various rehandling establishments which are operating with a rush. Sales have been small and will not materially increase until the season is further advanced. Warehousemen are preparing for a heavy business, however, and a little later along quotations will be given the public through the KENTUCKIAN.

Our Tailor Made Suits are simply beautiful and we'll take pleasure in showing them at Moayon's Big Store.

How to Cure Croup.

Mr. R. Gray, who lives near Amelia, Duchesne county, N. Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear. For sale by all druggists.

SEE MENED IT.

A Relative Who Did Not Appreciate a Fine Oriental Rug.

There is a woman out on the West side who collects rags as other women collect lace or China and she is ready any time to go without a new gown or wear a hat two seasons if by doing so there is a chance that she may add to her collection. The hopeful-looking thing about her is that she has little money—little money that is for high-priced bits of oriental carpets for if she had and her mania was as strong as it is now, there would not be an inch of wall or floor or furniture in her whole house not hidden beneath a rug. But as it is, she is obliged to make her purchases with discretion and only after long scrupling on personal and household allowances so that the acquisition of a new rug is a distinct event. A little while ago she bought a rare Keelin or some such name as that—wonderful colors skillfully mingled and woven together with the characteristic stich that leaves an open space between each contrasting band. It was a lovely old thing and the woman hung over it with delight, throwing it over a table and going into raptures over its beauty, reveling in the way the mahogany of the table gleamed through the meshes of the openwork stripes and rejoicing in the soft blues and old reds of the faded fabric. That same day the woman's aunt arrived from New England, bringing a cold blast of puritanical ideas into her oriental reveries and making ancient rugs sink into insignificance beside body Brussels at $1.25. Whether it was the reaction or whether it was merely a cold-taking in the draughty auction room where the dark Syrian had disposed of his wares that was responsible, I don't know, but at any rate the woman was taken ill and went to bed for a week, leaving the reins of household government in the hands of her relative. From the noise of lawsuits and disputes that reached her bedroom, she knew that at least things were being kept clean, but she had no definite reports from below until the day when, still weak, her husband carried her downstairs, the relative making voluble explanations from the landing. The grocer had been changed and a cheaper laundry had been found, and as for the state of the vegetable bins in the cellar there was no word in the language capable of expressing their degradation.

"But the worst thing was that old table cover," the aunt went on, blithely. "At first I thought I'd sell it to the rag man and buy a nice chenille one I saw marked down at a store, but then I concluded that it would be cheaper to mend it. So I did, and it's as good as new."

The owner of the old table cover had heard only the first sentence for, gaining sudden strength, she had rushed to the door of the living room and looked in. There on the table was the precious Keelin—"as good as new," with everyone of its openwork stripes carefully darned up with bright red Germantown wool.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Chinese Fashions.

No Change Made in Dress Designs in Twenty-Four Centuries.

La Mode in the celestial empire, like everything else, is old and well established, as old as the Yellow river itself, and older than the Book of Rites which regulates it and everything else in China. The latest designs were introduced or revived by Confucius in 478 B. C., who seemed, by the way, to have a finger in every Chinese pie, and a turn for Grandism as well as philosophy. The date of the present styles would suggest that China is not a dressy country, and the fact that there is but one style of dress for man and woman, from Peking to Hainan, would confirm the suggestion.

Given this one model, then, it stands to reason that a Chinese dame can be original only in the length and breadth of her wide-sleeved garment, and gorgeous only in her trappings. And since her social opportunities are exceedingly limited, by the time she has provided herself with a few gowns of silk and embroidery, after the style which is warranted good for her lifetime, she has left only her face, forehead nail and feet in time to excel. All her ambition is centered in the last, much to the detriment of the first.

She lives and often dies for her small feet. They are kept damp and refined and beauty, no matter if her face is pinched and old with the pain of them. Anyone can have a healthy face, but to few is given the precious privilege of being luxurious enough to live a life of useless agony.—Kansas City Times.

FOUND—A PEARL.

Two Rival Lunch Counter Proprietors New Companions in Misery.

It was at Jean's lunch counter. The man who had been quietly devouring a small fry suddenly sprang from his stool and shouted:

"I have found it!"

Jean left the chair behind the cash register and came over to find the cause of the guest's excitement.

"What is it you have found?"

A pearl! The biggest pearl found in an oyster this season," and he placed the opaque object in his palm for Jean's inspection. It was Jean's turn to be excited.

"A pearl! Ah, it is one beauty."

"A gem of the first water."

"One hundred dollars would be a moderate price for such a jewel."

"Will you sell it to me for fifty cash?"

"Fifty? Why, I told you it was worth double fifty."

"Yes, but you found it here."

The man with the pearl appeared to be in deep thought, says the Chicago Daily News. At last he placed the pearl in Jean's hand and said:

"Well, considering that I found it in your oysters it is only right that I should do the square thing. But what use are you going to make of it?"

"I will place it in my window for an advertisement. I will write on a card and so people will know my oysters have no pearls. I get no trade of Bumgarten across the street."

"Great idea! But give me the fifty and the pearl is yours."

Jean fished $40 from a greasy bag and the remainder from the cash register. With mumbled thanks the lucky man departed. Ten minutes later the pearl adorned the window.

A neat card informed the public that the rare jewel had been found in one of Jean's oysters. All morning a crowd stood before the window and Jean was proud. But at noon Jean noticed a similar crowd in front of his rival's establishment.

"He is jealous," said Jean, slipping on his coat and hat, "and he fix up something to make one look."

But there was a surprise in store for Jean. In Bumgarten's window was an exact duplicate of the Frenchman's pearl.

"Bumgarten!" called Jean, "where you got ze pearl?"

The Tonton's chest expanded with pride.

"Dot beart vas found in mient oysters. I pay der man dot found it $10 and keep der beart."

"But I paid fifty for one ze same size. What kind of a man found your pearl, Bumgarten?"

"He wore a golf cap and a blue coat."

"Then it is ze same man. Bumgarten, something is funny. Let's take ze pearls to ze jeweler."

The Tonton agreed and Jean hurried over after his attraction. To his horror they hastened to the jeweler, Van Duren street.

"Are ze ze genuine pearls?" asked Jean.

The jeweler examined the pearls and smiled.

"Who said they were pearls?"

"Ye bought dem as bearts."

"Then, gentlemen, you have been told. These are only smoked glass beads. They are intended to hold puff neckties together."

Then Jean and Bumgarten went out to tell the police all about it.

When the Deaf Hear.

It is said that persons afflicted with certain forms of deafness can hear perfectly in the midst of a tumult. A locomotive engineer, upon examination by a medical expert, was found to be very deaf, and, although he protested that he could hear perfectly well on his engine, he was suspended from duty. Some time afterward, having vainly tried to get cured, he applied for re-examination, again verifying the fact of his perfect hearing while on duty. Finally, in order to satisfy him, the physician rode with him upon a locomotive for a long distance and put him to every possible test. To the doctor's surprise, he found the man able not only to hear ordinary sounds without difficulty, but also to distinguish whispers and faint movements that were inaudible to his companion.

New English Lamphost

In England a lamphost has been introduced which combines a fire hydrant, tap and fire alarm box. The hydrant can be used for fire alarm purposes, filling water carts and for street flushing, while the small tap can be used by an individual for domestic water supply. There is a water meter and syphon at the bottom, by which the water is shut off from the hydrant, thus preventing it from freezing.
